Principal Investment Strategies and Risks of Investing in the Fund

The fund seeks total returns in excess of the Lehman Brothers Intermediate Government/Credit Bond Index, primarily through investments in U.S. treasuries, agencies, investment-grade corporate bonds, mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities. The fund employs research-based investment strategies including issuer and sector valuation, and individual security selection. The strategy integrates research and trading in a team environment. Risk management technology is used to measure benchmark exposures and implement compliance to guidelines.

The fund's total return will fluctuate over a wider range than money market investments due to greater sensitivity to interest rate changes. The fund is not a complete investment program and returns may lag the returns of a balanced portfolio with comparable risk. The fund's emphasis on intermediate bonds may cause it to lag the returns of the broad U.S. bond market. The fund's strategy for outperforming its benchmark may cause it to lag the benchmark as the strategy relies on predictions and incurring trading costs through security turnover. Your investment in the fund is not a bank deposit and is not insured or guaranteed by the F.D.I.C. or any other government entity. It is possible to lose money investing in the fund and returns may not keep pace with inflation.
